Press Release

A reading nature walk for the preschool set

Do You See What I See?

If you do, you'll see a mule deer, a jay, and ten other fascinating animals from the American Southwest.

As they read this board book, preschoolers will discover coyote singing, bobcat sneaking, and javelina running.

Colorful vivid illustrations, carefully reviewed by biologists, will let young explorers meet these lovable creatures up-close. Easy-to-read rhyming and repetition will capture and hold their attention, pulling them along on a reading nature walk.

Based on illustrations from our bestselling Southwest Discovery Blocks, Do You See is a wonderful introduction to southwestern fauna.
